

Gazetteer of New Zealand pipe organs:

South Island

New Zealand Organ Preservation Trust (Inc.)

27 May 2007

This list provides a brief record of all the known pipe organs in the South Island, past and present. The Gazetteer aims to be a concise listing of relatively certain information about organs, not a detailed description including a lot of the conjecture that inevitably surrounds some instruments. More detailed description, including photographs, is planned as part of the development of the NZOPT website. It was made possible by the efforts of many organ lovers and enthusiasts. Their ready assistance in gathering information and making available material from their own collections is now gratefully acknowledged.

The initial stimulus to produce a comprehensive list of New Zealand pipe organs came from Ron Newton. In the course of his Ph.D. studies into New Zealand organ builders, Ron had gathered from church and other records a large amount of material which he collated, and from which he provided for the Trust a list of organs, their builders and present condition. That provided a framework for this list and the companion list covering the North Island. Subsequently Christopher Templeton has provided a large amount of information and it was he who began the full specification listings which are slowly replacing the synoptic specifications. Where an organ has been rebuilt, an original spec has been included. (sometimes several) Assistance in compiling the summary specifications for the listed instruments was willingly provided by Rob McClintock, John Dodgshun and many others, who responded with enthusiasm to requests for assistance. John Hargraves of the South Island Organ Company, who, with his considerable technical expertise and intimate knowledge of many of the instruments recorded, is unfailingly helpful, and provided support and encouragement at all times. The late Ross Wards, who accumulated a great amount of information over the years on the organ in New Zealand, also provided some updates and corrections from his comprehensive collections.

Although every effort has been made to make this list as complete as possible, there are still many gaps in our knowledge and changes to instruments occur regularly. Readers of this list who can help with additional information are asked to get in touch with the Trust. Contact details will be up-to-date on the Trust website, www.nzopt.org.nz. The current contact person for the gazetteer is Mr John Dodgshun, 12 Natalie Place, Christchurch 8051. Email jandjdodgshun@gmail.com

m.	Manuals
Man:	Manual
Meth.	Methodist
o'haul	Overhaul

Work done on an organ which substantially alters it is described throughout as a rebuild, work which restores it to an earlier condition as a restoration, while work which may include substantial reconstruction, revoicing, additions and replacements, but which does not constitute a rebuild is described as a major overhaul.

For organs with unit or borrowed ranks, the stop on the “home” division of the rank is suffixed by an upper case letter (A). For all the extensions or duplexing, the same rank is shown by a lower case letter (a). In fully extension instruments the ranks are shown by a lower case letter (a).
